From Monday March 21. to Thurſday March 24. 1708.

St. James's, March 21.

THIS Evening the Baron Ranzau, Envoy-Extraordinary from the King of Denmark (introduced by Mr. Secretary Boyle, and conducted by Sir Charles Cottrell, Maſter of the Ceremonies) had his private Audience of Leave of Her Majeſty.

Venice, March 16. N. S. On the 7th Inſtant his Daniſh Majeſty arrived at Ponte di Lago Scuro, where he was Complimented by General Bonevall, who is poſted there at the Head of ſome Imperial Troops. The next Day four Deputies were ſent from Ferrara to do him the ſame Honours, and conduct his Majeſty and Court to that City in Barks, which were magnificently adorned for the Occaſion. Upon his Majeſty's Arrival he was received by the Vice-Legate at one of the Gates, and conducted to the Palace of Pepoli in the Cardinal-Legate's Coach. The King having been entertained for two Days at the Expence of the Pope, went from Ferrara on the 9th, being attended by the Vice-Legate and four Deputies, with a Guard of three Troops of Horſe, as far as Malalbergo. The King lodged in the Palace of Mareſcalchi, and was met at that Place by four Deputies, who conducted him to Bologna, where he was entertained in the Palace of Remuzzi. 'Tis ſaid the King will go from thence to Florence, after which his Majeſty intends to viſit Rome. Letters from Rome ſay, that the Pope has given the neceſſary Orders to all Governors within his Dominions to do the King all the Honour imaginable, and has taken care that the Palace in which Queen Chriſtina of Sweden formerly reſided, ſhall be prepared in the moſt magnificent manner for his Reception. Thoſe Advices add, that a Courier was arrived from Vienna with the Emperor's Ratification of the late Treaty between his Imperial Majeſty and the Pope; at the ſame time it was demanded that an immediate Reſolution ſhould be taken concerning the manner of Acknowledging King Charles, upon which the Congregation of 15 Cardinals was held, who deſired the Pope to decide that Affair himſelf, and promiſed their conſent to his Determination.

Berlin, March 23. N. S. A great Body of Recruits marched from hence this Morning towards Aix la Chapelle on their way to Brabant, where they are to reinforce the Pruſſian Troops which ſerved in thoſe Parts the laſt Campaign. The Equipage of the Prince-Royal took the ſame Rout. His Royal Highneſs ſets out to morrow for Brandenburg, where he is to review another Body of Men, who alſo were lately raiſed for the Service in the Low-Countries. The Prince will return to Court, and ſtay here 'till he receives advice that the Troops begin to march out of their Winter Quarters; upon which his Royal Highneſs will take Poſt for Flanders, to be preſent at the opening of the Campaign. According to a Diſpoſition propoſed by his Electoral Highneſs of Brunſwick, there has been an Alteration made in the Rout of the Troops, which, at the requeſt of this Court, were to march through the Territories of Hanover. Monſieur Blaſpeil, who is appointed his Majeſty's Commiſſary General, is arrived here from Duſſeldorp, where he had reſided as Envoy-Extraordinary from his Pruſſian Majeſty to the Elector Palatine; that Miniſter was received this Morning very graciouſly. Upon the Death of the Dutcheſs Dowager of Holſtein, the Adminiſtrator of Holſtein having taken upon him the Tutelage of the young Duke, has ſent Monſieur Fabricius with Diſpatches to his Swediſh Majeſty, wherein he acquaints the King with many Particulars relating to that important Charge. This Gentleman arrived here on Thurſday laſt, and proceeds on his way to the Swediſh Army this Afternoon. A Battalion of the Duke of Mecklenbourg's Forces, with which the King deſigns to augment his Troops, entred Yeſterday into his Pruſſian Majeſty's Pay, and took the Oaths of Allegiance during the time of their being employed and paid by him. The Queen's Jointure has been lately ſettled by the King, and the Houſe of Miland in the County of Cleves is given in Dower to Her Majeſty. Letters from Moſcow of the 20th of February laſt, mention the Death of the Archbiſhop of Lemberg, which they attribute to an exceſs of Grief for the publick Calamities of his Country. Thoſe Advices add, that the Swediſh Army was on their March from Stadzac towards the Boriſthenes; but they write from Wilda of the 10th Inſtant, that the Swedes continued their March towards Zapercotza.

Hague, March 29. N. S. Since the Publication of the Edict concerning the Mint-Bills of France, ſeveral Roman Catholick Merchants of conſiderable Note in theſe Dominions are become Bankrupt; and if the Day appointed for the Payment of Bills in France ſhould be tranſgreſſed, it is certain many others muſt ſuffer in the ſame manner. Letters from Bruſſels ſay, that on the 23d Inſtant Major-General Cadogan returned thither from Leuſe, after having removed ſome Difficulties made hitherto by the Enemy, to execute the Treaty for the Exchange of Priſoners. Mareſchal de Villars arrived on the 17th at Cambray, where he gave Orders to five Regiments of Foot and three of Horſe to march from thence to Alſace, to reinforce the Army of the Duke of Burgundy. The Mareſchal arrived on the 22d at Mons, from whence he ſet out on the 26th for Tournay, in order to appeaſe a great Mutiny which was lately raiſed among the Soldiers of that Garriſon for want of Pay. Prince Eugene arrived at Bruſſels on the 27th, and was ſaluted by a triple Diſcharge of the Artillery. He came from Cologn to Nimegue by Water, and from thence by Grave to Breda and Antwerp. The States of Flanders having lately granted a conſiderable Subſidy for the Maintenance of the Troops raiſed in theſe Countries for the Service of his Catholick Majeſty, their Deputies who have been here for ſome time, to receive the Approbation of a Propoſal relating to that Affair, went back ſome days ago. Major-General Cadogan is expected here very ſuddenly. Letters from Madrid of the 17th ſay, That Monſieur d'Asfeldt having put the Mine, near the Caſtle of Alicant, in a readineſs to be blown up, gave notice to the Garriſon, that he deſigned to give it Fire, except they would immediately ſurrender. The Governor returned for Anſwer, That he would maintain the Place to the laſt Extremity; upon which Monſieur d'Asfeldt put his Deſign in Execution. They add, that 30 Houſes of the Town were thrown down by it, and many dead Bodies found in the Ruins; but that the Caſtle it ſelf ſuffered but very little Damage. Theſe Advices ſay alſo, that the Village of Rhode, an Important Poſt in the Mountains, where there lay a French Garriſon, had been ſurprized by the Catalans.

Plimouth, March 18. On the 16th Inſtant came in Her Majeſty's Ship the Newcaſtle, and under her Convoy the Godolphin for the Eaſt-Indies, three Ships for Lisbon, one for St. Chriſtophers, and four Veſſels with Bread bound hither. On the 17th came in two Veſſels from Bilboa, with Wooll and Iron, both for London.

Portſmouth, March 20. Yeſterday ſailed from Spithead a Dutch Man of War and a Privateer, with 24 Sail of Merchantmen and Coaſters under their Convoy to the Downs. And this Morning Her Majeſty's Ships Exeter, Chatham and Worceſter ſailed from St. Hellens; the two former to cruize, and the latter to call the Merchantmen out of the Ports that are bound for Lisbon.

Yarmouth, March 21. Divers Light Colliers are come into our Road, from the Southward, and wait for a fair Wind to ſail for Newcaſtle. Yeſterday came into our Road four Dutch Fiſhing-Doggers from the Northward.

Portſmouth, March 22. This morning Her Majeſty's Ships the Somerſet, Tartar and Queenborough, are coming up to St. Hellens, with about 80 Sail; the greater part are Tranſports from Oſtend, but laſt from the Downs.

St. James's, March 21. This Day Her Majeſty was graciouſly pleaſed to confer the Honour of Knighthood upon William Dodwill, Eſq; of Sevenhampton, in the County of Glouceſter.

Whereas the new Ship of the 5th Rate building at Woolwich, according to the Propoſals of the Right Honourable the Marquis of Caermarthen, is to be named the Royal Ann-Galley; my Lord High-Admiral does hereby direct, that ſuch Perſons who ſhall have Tickets ſigned by the Flag-Officers, to ſerve in the ſaid Ship, be not moleſted, that ſo they may be ready to be put on Board her when ſhe ſhall be launched, it being neceſſary that a Trial ſhould be made of the Qualifications of the ſaid Ship, as ſoon as may be.
